APPROVAL OF JOURNAL

The Senate Journal for the regular session of May 1, 1989, was approved.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Chair introduced the new members of the Faculty Senate. The roster of Senators for 1989-90 is attached (Appendix I).

The regular meetings of the Faculty Senate for 1989-90 will be held at 3:30 p.m. in the Conoco Auditorium on the following Mondays: September 11, October 16, November 13, December 11, January 15, February 12, March 5, April 9, and May 7.

The Faculty Senate planning/discussion sessions will be held September 18-22. The purpose of these sessions is to identify issues that the Senate should address. A sign-up sheet was circulated during the meeting so that all Senators could sign up to attend at least one of the one-hour sessions.

The Fall General Faculty meeting will be Thursday, October 5, at 3:30 p.m. in room A235 of the Energy Center. President Van Horn will be the guest speaker. [Note that this meeting was originally scheduled for October 19.]

The Senate Executive Committee nominated Professors David Huettner (Economics) and Claude Duchon (Meteorology) for the faculty-at-large position on the Arts & Sciences Dean Search Committee. Prof. Duchon was selected to serve on the Committee.

The Senate Executive Committee nominated Prof. Keith Busby (Modern Languages, Literature, and Linguistics) to replace Prof. David Morgan (Political Science) on the 1989-90 Academic Program Review Panel (see 4/89 Senate Journal, page 5). [Note that the agenda incorrectly stated that Prof. Morgan replaced Prof. Busby.]

The Senate Executive Committee elected Prof. Peter Kutner as Parliamentarian of the Faculty Senate and General Faculty.

DISPOSITION BY THE ADMINISTRATION OF SENATE ACTIONS

[The summary record of the disposition by the administration of Senate actions for September 1988 to August 1989 is attached (Appendix II).]

On May 17, 1989, the OU Regents disapproved the proposed revisions in the Student Code pertaining to sexual orientation discrimination (see 2/89 Senate Journal, page 5). The recommendation for a policy statement that would apply to faculty and staff members is still under consideration by the ad hoc committee.

On July 14, 1989, Interim President Swank approved an operating document for the Council on Campus Life that contains provisions different from those endorsed by the Faculty Senate (see 4/89 Senate Journal, page 5). The Executive Committee and administration are working on resolving the problems.

The proposal for mid-semester grade reports (see 5/89 Senate Journal, page 4) was approved June 5, 1989, by Interim President Swank.

Interim President Swank recommended that no action be taken on the proposal to change the process for revising the OU Student Code (see 5/89 Senate Journal, page 4) until Student Congress has had an opportunity to consider the matter.

The 1:1 nominees for the end-of-the-year vacancies on councils, committees, and boards were approved (see 5/89 Senate Journal, page 3), and the faculty selected by the administration from the 2:1 nominations is attached (Appendix III).

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT RICHARD VAN HORN

Prof. Magid noted that the duties of the President, according to page four of the Faculty Handbook, are as follows: "As the chief executive and academic officer of the University, the President is responsible to the Board of Regents of the University for the administration of the Institution." The one place where there is a specific requirement that the President is obligated to perform is on page 137 of the Faculty Handbook, which states: "The President of the University shall present to the first meeting of the Faculty Senate in each new academic year a general message on the state of the University in which he or she shall give recommendations for the furtherance of the progress of the University." Prof. Magid said the Senate was happy to have Dr. Van Horn present to carry out the one required aspect of his job as President of the University.

Dr. Van Horn said that one of his goals is for OU to become one of the top 20 or 25 universities in the nation within the next five or six years. He said OU should be the dominant University in the state, and to be that, OU must be more effective at drawing students from the northeast portion of the state. He said he believes there should be a broader distribution of students throughout the state, and more graduate students should be recruited.

The President suggested that some portion of OU's research programs should be tailored for the state. Research that benefits Oklahoma will assist the state in achieving a higher level of economic well-being and, in turn, increase the funding for the University. He called for external funding to be at the $150 million level within five years if OU is to become nationally visible.

Dr. Van Horn said OU should have a large and a strong undergraduate program. He would like the student body to be at about the 20,000 level. Additional recruiting efforts should focus on bringing in good students from a broad distribution, rather than trying to increase the number of National Merit Scholars. His feeling is the number of National Merit Scholars will probably increase because of momentum. He explained that he views the new admission standards as a way to bring in students who have the ability to profit from the education, not as a way to keep anyone out.

The legislature and state regents seem to be committed to improving the state funding, so OU can probably anticipate a fairly consistent increase in state funding over the next five years. With somewhat better organization the University should be able to raise $30 million a year in private funding. Another source of funds for the University will come from a steady increase in research, grants, and contract funding. Other sources of funding are internal reallocations. By cutting back in certain areas within the University, more money can be directed into high priority academic programs. President Van Horn will be talking with administrators to determine what can be given up. He suggested the number of University automobiles as one area that could be examined. He said he would like to identify $5-10 million for academic programs. He told the Senators that he hoped these are the kinds of decisions that they expected him to make to ensure that academic programs are well-supported. He said, "If we can't pay competitive salaries, if we can't solve faculty salary compression problems, then we can't be one of the 20 great universities in the state."

To make sure OU is visible and well-represented in Tulsa, President Van Horn has decided to place a development officer and admissions officer at the College of Medicine in Tulsa. He will probably combine admissions, financial aids, and student recruiting in a single organization. He plans to enhance graduate recruiting by adding more scholarships. To facilitate research, Dr. Van Horn would like to allot incentive money to some research areas by providing matching funds for equipment.

During the question and answer period, Prof. Weaver-Meyers asked whether Dr. Van Horn considered the library as an academic program. Dr. Van Horn said many different things go in to make up the academic program. His first priority is faculty size and faculty salaries; second is faculty support, secretarial support, and departmental operating expense support; third is libraries and computing; and fourth is academic support services, such as admissions, that help attract students. When asked about OU's participation in the University Center at Tulsa by Prof. Moore, President Van Horn said he expects the role of OU and OSU to increase and the role of Langston and Northeastern State to remain about the same at UCT. He said he understood that it would take funding away from the Norman Campus, but that over time it should generate additional state funding. He has asked Provost Wadlow to allocate additional funding to increase OU's participation in Tulsa and also to get authorization for additional teaching there. He also would like to get more visibility out of the OU College of Medicine in Tulsa. That is part of his strategy for OU to be seen as serving the entire state and being interested in the entire state.

SENATE CHAIR'S REPORT

Prof. Magid reported on the following items:

"Presidential Appointment. The day after our final Senate meeting of the Spring semester of 1989, the University of Oklahoma Board of Regents named Dr. Richard L. Van Horn the 12th President of the University. Dr. Van Horn officially began his duties Monday morning July 17; his very first action that day was a 7:30 a.m. breakfast meeting with the Executive Committees of the Norman Campus and Health Sciences Center Campus Faculty Senates. I trust that the symbolism of the timing of this meeting will be appreciated by this Senate.

"Sexual harassment consultant. On August 22, the Executive Committee of the Senate met with Dr. Sue Rosser, Director of Women's Studies at the University of South Carolina and a consultant on sexual harassment, over lunch hosted by Provost Wadlow. Dr. Rosser called the Committee's attention to the unusually high attrition rate for female faculty at the University of Oklahoma. She also discussed with the Committee policies in place at other Universities governing the propriety of faculty members acting in a supervisory capacity over students or other faculty to whom they are bound by ties of affection. Finally, general issues regarding discrimination against women and sexual harassment were also discussed. For convenience, I will refer to all of these matters as pertaining to the climate for women on campus. It's likely that Provost Wadlow will be asking for Senate advice on policies and programs regarding improving this climate. I'd like to ask that you all consult your colleagues about the climate for women on campus and bring their concerns to the small group agenda-setting sessions next week.

"Meeting with President Van Horn. Dr. Van Horn resumed the University's tradition of meeting monthly with the Faculty Senate Executive Committee with a meeting held August 31. Topics discussed included Incentives for Sponsored Research, the Campus Master Plan, Library Funding, the Council on Campus Life, and other matters of mutual interest. I'd especially like to discuss sponsored research. Your Executive Committee is, of course, supportive of Dr. Van Horn's ambitious goal to increase sponsored research and training grants by $90 million dollars University-wide over the next five years. It is the $150 million dollars he told us about this afternoon and is $90 million dollars more than the $60 million dollars that the University is currently producing. We also want to make sure that the impact that the effort towards these goals has on personnel decisions, like tenure, promotion, and salary increases, and on setting academic program priorities takes due cognizance of faculty concerns. Fifteen years ago the University administration began to require peer-reviewed publications or creative activity as a necessary requirement for tenure and promotion. The Faculty Senate of those days, in expressing their honest concern that these new requirements not negate traditional faculty prerogatives necessary for academic freedom, appeared to some to oppose the idea that peer-reviewed publication or creative effort is an expected outcome of serious scholarship. We need to be careful to avoid such appearances in our discussion of incentives for sponsored research. Regarding academic program priorities, we have the recent explosion in the number of endowed chairs and professorships as an example. We're all grateful to the generous donors of these important academic assets and to the professional and volunteer development staff that brought these projects to fruition. I think it's also fair to say that the choice of chair projects has basically reflected the interests of donors and development staff. Similarly, one wonders to what extent the interests of sponsoring agencies will be reflected in our academic program priorities. Again, I hope that you'll consult your colleagues on these matters and raise their concerns in the small group sessions.

"Computer Terminal. University Computing Services has supplied the Senate Office, Room 406 of the Union, with a terminal into the 3081 and a TSO account. We are collecting Senator's e-mail addresses and hope to begin electronic distribution of some Senate communications. Please fill out the e-mail address forms and return them to us so we can begin this project.

"Football. Finally, on a lighter note, I want to report on my experience during the week of September 2 as a Faculty Guest of the Football Program. I visited a practice, several team meals, and joined them on the sideline for a game. I can report that (a) post game locker room conversation is subdued by, say, Faculty Fieldhouse standards; and (b) I unexpectedly found team meals to be much quieter than I recalled from college cafeteria experiences, until it was pointed out to me that most of these young men are pretty serious about their eating; (c) Football coaches (unlike players or Faculty guests) eat mounds of scrambled eggs and thick rare steaks for breakfast on game days; and (d) that a person of average height can see very little standing on the sideline behind the football team. Actually, I found the experience quite useful. We all know what Dr. Tom Hill (who was my host for this experience) has done to systematize the academic support system for scholarship athletes. Dr. Hill is now also in charge of the athletic dormitories, and we can expect similar improvement in the dormitory living environment. I'm mentioning all of this so that I can say, should Dr. Hill contact you about being a Faculty Guest of an athletic program, please at least consider accepting his invitation."

FOCUS ON EXCELLENCE: DUANE STOCK

Prof. Roger Rideout, Senate Chair-Elect, focused on Professor Duane Stock, who joined OU's Division of Finance in 1979. Since his arrival here at OU, Professor Stock's research has centered on helping the banking and finance industries more accurately assess the percentage rate of risk. By improving the means to determine the risk banks confront in loaning money at a particular percentage rate, Professor Stock is helping managers fund loans more soundly. In 1981 and 1987 his research was aided by fellowships from OU, and in 1986 the Prochnow Foundation at the University of Wisconsin at Madison and the Graduate School of Banking associated with that school awarded him a grant to calculate the differences in yields on bonds instead of loans. The outcome of this project will help banks protect themselves against the economic changes that have contributed to so many bank closings and so many savings and loan foreclosures recently. In the troubled area of banking Professor Stock is a leader in the national effort to minimize these kinds of problems and to establish a stronger fiscal base for banking operations.

ELECTION, COUNCILS, COMMITTEES, AND BOARDS

The Senate approved the Committee on Committees nominations to fill vacancies on University and Campus Councils, Committees, and Boards (Appendix IV).

FINAL REPORT ON FACULTY SALARIES BY PROF. RYAN DOEZEMA, CHAIR OF THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON FACULTY COMPENSATION

Prof. Doezema explained that the report is divided into two sections (Appendix V). The first section is a summary of the Fall 1988 interim report, which documents the low faculty salaries at OU relative to peer institutions and the decline in the number of faculty since 1984. The second section is a follow-up of two concerns raised by the Faculty Senate: (A) a substantial jump in the M & O share of the E & G budget and a decline in the staff salary share of the E & G budget from 1985/86 to 1986/87; and (B) the ranking of administrative salaries at OU relative to peer institutions. The M & O jump and staff salary decline were caused by an internal shift of funds in the Administrative Affairs area. The salaries of selected administrators also lag peer institutions but not as much as do the faculty salaries. New figures not included in the report show that for 1988-89 the salaries of 33 top-level OU administrators are 6% below the average in the Big 8 and Big 10, while OU faculty salaries are 18% below.

REPORT BY PROF. JAY SMITH, CHAIR OF THE BUDGET COUNCIL, ON THE FY90 BUDGET

Prof. Smith presented a report on the budget for the current fiscal year (Appendix VI). For FY90 the E & G budget for the Norman Campus, which includes the Law Center and the Oklahoma Geological Survey, is about $118,858,980. That is an increase over last year's budget, which was $105,952,355. Including agency special funds and sponsored research, the budget for this year is $229,666,781.

The E & G budget increased by $13 million--$8.1 million in centrally allocated revenues and $4.9 in designated revenues. Designated revenues are revenues that are generated by a department or budget unit and are earmarked for a particular purpose, for example, Continuing Education & Public Service. The $8.1 million increase in centrally allocated sources of revenues--$5.6 million in state appropriations and $2.3 million in tuition--was distributed as follows: $4.25 million for salary and wage increases; $2.5 million for new positions, including 22 new faculty positions; $780,000 for M & O increases; and $600,000 for other areas such as fringe benefits. The total state appropriation for the Main Campus was about 17% of the total higher education appropriation, compared to 17.2% for FY89 and 17.1% for FY88. Thus, OU is receiving more funds but a lower share. Tuition revenue was based on an anticipated decrease of approximately 450 students, whereas the actual decrease was more than that. With regard to the salary increases for faculty, the main campus received a 5.4% increase and the Law Center an 8% increase.

Prof. Smith reported that the Budget Council was concerned that only one of its eight recommendations from last year was accepted by the administration, and that was a recommendation extending appreciation to Interim President Swank for his careful and timely consideration of Council actions. He said he believed it would take more than a recommending body to get the recommendations implemented or accepted. The other Council recommendations concerned the following issues: (a) Too many satisfactory performance raises are being called merit raises; (b) The percentage of Section 13 funds available for the Norman Campus has been eroding. The Norman Campus allocation of Section 13 funds should be increased because the majority of the students, faculty, and buildings (most of which were erected before 1971) are on the Norman Campus; and (c) if the increase in the FY90 state appropriation to higher education were over $30 million, the additional funds allocated to OU should go to faculty and staff salary increases.

Prof. Zelby asked whether faculty administrators are classified as faculty or staff. Prof. Doezema said he believed they were classified as staff. Prof. Zelby said the Chronicle of Higher Education Almanac [September 6 issue] lists OU faculty salaries as third from the bottom for public institutions in the U.S. Prof. Magid noted that in the summer issue of the Journal of Higher Education OU is #100 in average compensation, adjusted for cost-of-living, and the list includes institutions that are not doctoral.

Prof. Nicewander said he had received a memo during the summer indicating that funds available to the Research Council this year would be reduced by about $250,000. He asked if that was still true. Prof. Schnell said it was his understanding that the money was restored late in the summer. [Note: The restoration is one-time money.] Prof. Magid explained that Prof. William Shelton (Zoology), Chair of the Research Council, would have a report at the November Faculty Senate meeting on that issue.

Prof. Christian asked whether Prof. Smith had any information on the distribution of merit raises for faculty. Prof. Smith said he did not have that information. Prof. Magid thanked Professors Doezema and Smith for their reports.

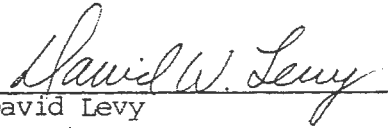

COMMITTEE ON COMMITTEES' RECOMMENDATIONS ON TWO-FOR-ONE NOMINATIONS

Prof. Rideout, Chair-Elect and Chair of the Committee on Committees, presented a recommendation requesting President Van Horn to reduce the number of committees for which the Senate is required to provide two nominations per vacancy. Currently, there are 24 such committees; the proposal is to change 16 of those to one-for-one status. Also contained in the report is a suggestion that Chairs/Directors/Deans be encouraged to nominate a wider spectrum of faculty for councils and committees, because many individuals have not served on a council or committee in at least ten years. Prof. Ryan noted that, having served on the Committee on Committees in the past, he wondered whether the committees should be reviewed periodically to determine whether it is necessary for the Senate to submit nominations for the positions. He cited as an example the Bass Memorial Scholarship, which requires one faculty member each from Economics and Political Science. The Senate will vote on the report at next month's meeting. (The report is available from the Senate office.)

ADJOURNMENT

The meeting adjourned at 4:50 p.m. The next regular session of the Senate will be held at 3:30 p.m. on Monday, October 16, 1989, in the Conoco Auditorium.

FINAL REPORT
FACULTY SENATE COMMITTEE ON FACULTY COMPENSATION
September 1989

This report is divided into two sections. The first summarizes the interim report which we released in November 1988, and the second discusses two follow-up concerns raised by the Faculty Senate.

I. Summary of the November 1988 report.

The interim report presented data (Tables 1 and 2 and Figure 1) which show that, for the years 1980/81 through 1988/89, faculty salaries maintained a nearly constant share of the OU Norman Campus E & G budget and very nearly kept pace with the cost of living. This maintenance of the status quo has resulted in a continued low ranking of faculty salaries at OU relative to a set of peer institutions as well as to a set of AAU universities (Tables 3 and 4). Over the past decade (Figure 2), due to the precipitous decline of total faculty number since 1983, little progress in improving the faculty-student ratio was made.

II. Follow-up issues.

A. M & O anomaly.

Figure 1 shows a substantial jump in the M & O share of the E & G budget from the 1985/86 to 1986/87 budget years. At the same time, the figure shows a decline in the staff salary share of the E & G budget. To investigate this anomaly, the compensation committee obtained Table 5 from the Office of Institutional Research, which shows the M & O budgets by college and unit for the years 1985/86 and 1986/87. It is clear that the M & O increase from 19.5 to 22.8 million dollars is attributable to the 4.0 million dollar increase in the M & O budget of the Administrative Affairs area. Table 6 shows the breakdown of this increase within the Administrative Affairs area. Tables 7 and 8 (taken from the 85/86 and 86/87 OU operating budgets) show, however, that the M & O increase occurred at the expense of the wages and salaries categories within the Administrative Affairs area and did not signify an increase in the total Administrative Affairs budget. Thus both the jump in the M & O budget share as well as the drop in staff salary share seen in Figure 1 were caused by an internal shift of funds in the Administrative Affairs area.

B. Administrative salaries.

In view of the low ranking of OU faculty salaries relative to peer and AAU institutions, it is natural to inquire, as did a number of Faculty Senate members, about the relative ranking of administrative salaries at OU. To examine this question, we make use of Tables 9 and 10, where salaries of selected administrators are compared to equivalent Big Eight salaries (Table 9) and to salaries of a group consisting of Big Eight, Big Ten, and the University of Texas (Table 10).

Of the 35 positions listed in Table 9, there are 16 positions for which the OU salary falls below the Big Eight average and 19 for which the OU salary is higher than the Big Eight average. The total of the 35 OU salaries is 0.4% higher than the total of the 35 corresponding Big Eight average salaries. Although OU is thus at the Big Eight average, it lags behind in the comparison of Table 10. Of the 34 positions, there are 12 for which the OU salary falls in the lowest quartile, 16 for which the OU salary falls in the second quartile, 3 for which the OU salary is in the third quartile, and 3 which fall into the highest quartile. Thus the OU salaries are, in general, well below the median salaries for the group consisting of the Big Eight the Big Ten, and the University of Texas.

It seems clear therefore that the administrative salary structure at OU, while not presenting so bleak a picture as do faculty salaries (Table 4), does not stand out regionally and lags that at Big Ten universities.

E. L. Lancaster (Music)
Alan Nicewander (Psychology)

The University of Oklahoma

FY90 E&G Budget Information
NORMAN CAMPUS

The Educational and General Budget increased by $13.0 million for FY90. Increased revenues were derived from the following sources:

CENTRALLY ALLOCATED REVENUES - $8.1 million

State Appropriations - $5.6 million

There was a $5,075,000 increase in state appropriations for the Main Campus of which $325,000 was designated for the Oklahoma Biological Survey by the State Regents and legislative intent. The Law Center received an additional $417,000 while the Oklahoma Geological Survey received an increase of $106,000. Total appropriations for the Norman Campus are approximately 17.0 percent of the total Higher Education appropriations for FY90 which compares to 17.2 percent for FY89 and 17.1 percent for FY88.

Tuition Revenue - $2.3 million

Following the adoption of a four-year tuition rate increase plan by the State Regents (FY90-FY93), the tuition rates for FY90 increased by an average of 17 percent for the Main Campus and approximately 40 percent for the Law Center. For the Main Campus, this resulted in an original projection of a $3.2 million increase in new tuition revenues based on constant enrollment for FY90. However, later estimates of student enrollment projected a decrease of approximately 450 students which reduced the initial projection by $541,000. The University Regents also approved an increase of $619,000 for tuition and fee waivers which further reduced the original tuition revenue projection. Finally, the Dietetics Program was transferred to the Health Sciences Center which reduced the anticipated revenue by an additional $35,000. The projected net increase in new tuition revenue for the Norman Campus was $2.0 million. New tuition and fees revenue for the Law Center was estimated to increase $300,000.

Indirect Costs Revenue - $230,000

Revenues derived from indirect cost reimbursements were estimated to increase by $230,000 for FY90 (excluding CE&PS).

Distribution of Centrally Allocated Revenues

The centrally allocated revenues mentioned above totalled $8.1 million and were distributed to the following areas:

Salaries and Wages - $4.25 million

$4.25 million was allocated for salary increases for faculty (5.4% increase for the Main Campus and 8.0% for the Law Center), staff (5.0% for the Main Campus, Law Center and Geological Survey) as well as graduate assistants and other pool positions (5.0% for all areas).

New Positions - $2.5 million

Allocations for Norman Campus new positions in FY90 included 22 new faculty positions, 8 new academic staff positions, 12 new Centennial Research Assistants, 12 new graduate assistants, 11 staff positions in university development, 7 staff positions in Student Affairs including 4 positions transferred from auxiliary accounts, 2 grants and contracts positions, 2 police officers, an accounting position, and 2 staff positions at the Law Center. $276,000 was also added to undergraduate instruction for adjunct teaching faculty and graduate assistants.

Maintenance and Operations - $780,000

M&O increases for FY90 included $100,000 for Main Campus Library Acquisitions, $15,000 for Law Library Acquisitions, $50,000 each for academic and research M&O, $100,000 for the Honors Program, $170,000 for the Oklahoma Natural Heritage Inventory, $69,000 for Arts and Sciences General Education, $34,000 for library automation, $50,000 for Computing Services and $58,000 for M&O increases in other VP areas. The Law Center also added an additional $53,000 to M&O while the Geological Survey added $31,000 to M&O funding.

Other Increases - $600,000

Other allocations for FY90 included increases to fixed costs such as fringe benefits, utilities, refuse disposal, institutional memberships, etc.

DESIGNATED REVENUES (Main Campus) - $4.9 million

(These are revenues generated by a department/budget unit or are earmarked for a particular purpose)

Continuing Education & Public Service - $1.7 million

CE&PS estimated income increased by $1.7 million including $1.6 million derived from increased program and course offerings as well as $116,000 in anticipated indirect cost increased revenue.

OU Foundation Reimbursements - $1.36 million

OU Foundation Reimbursements for academic areas increased by $1.36 million for FY90 consisting of $256,000 in new foundation academic support as well as $1.1 million in supplemental academic support previously brought into the budget on a monthly basis throughout the fiscal year.

Miscellaneous Reimbursements - $400,000

Miscellaneous income reimbursements, including miscellaneous refunds, overpayments, and small gifts and grants (e.g. State Regents initiatives), were anticipated to increase by $400,000 for FY90.

Auxiliary/Service Unit Overhead Reimbursements - $1.4 million

$1.4 million of revenue and expenditure budgets were transferred from auxiliary and service unit accounts to the E&G budget for FY90. This action was taken to gain compliance with the "Auxiliary Enterprises/Service Units Fiscal Policies and Procedures Implementing Guidelines" approved by the University Regents in September, 1988.

Other Designated Revenue Changes - $75,000

The E&G budget also increased an additional $75,000 due to net increases for designated accounts such as Televised Instruction, Library Copy Service, Library Database Search, Contract Social Services, etc. These accounts receive earmarked revenues from specific sources or are self generated revenues.

ENDOWED CHAIRS

The State Legislature also appropriated $4 million statewide for endowed chairs which is in addition to the $15 million appropriated in FY89. Of the $19 million total, the State Regents have earmarked $9.1 million for OU ($5 million for the Norman Campus and $4.1 million for HSC). At the present time, OU has requested the establishment of 17 chairs and professorships for the Norman Campus as well as 9 chairs and professorships at the Health Sciences Center. Of the 26 total chairs and professorships, all meet the 50 percent matching funds requirement with 7 currently fully funded. The total amount of matching funds raised to date is $6.2 million.
